

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A patient monitor, particularly for emergency rooms, intensive care units, ORs or the like of clinics, containing hardware modules and software modules for processing signals from sensors that are attached to a patient, which are supplied via an interface, also has hardware modules and software modules for processing signals of an ultrasound probe that are supplied via an interface.

CH1\ 4082231.1